

FRAMEWORK

for Community Leadership by a Community Foundation

DECEMBER 2008

Created by the National Task Force on Community Leadership

Prepared by CFLeads and Aspen Institute Community Strategies Group

COUNCIL on FOUNDATIONS

Community Foundations Leadership Team

Defining community leadership

The framework begins with a definition of what community leadership looks like when it is happening. It is knitted together into a very long sentence where every word matters. It's helpful to begin by unraveling the definition to reveal each strand of thought.

The community foundation is a catalyzing force that creates a better future for all by addressing the community's most critical or persistent challenges, inclusively uniting people, institutions and resources, and producing significant, widely shared and lasting results.

THE COMMUNITY FOUNDATION...

is a catalyzing force

This acknowledges that the community foundation does not act in isolation. It acts in concert with others, sometimes taking the lead, sometimes following, sometimes paving the way for new leaders.

that creates a better future for all

This acknowledges that the community foundation's constituency is the entire community. Every issue, every cause it embraces, has some connection to the greater good.

by addressing the community's most critical or persistent challenges

This acknowledges that the community foundation doesn't shy away from something because it's too hard or "it has always been that way" and it can be counted on to address the things that matter the most.

inclusively uniting people, institutions, and resources

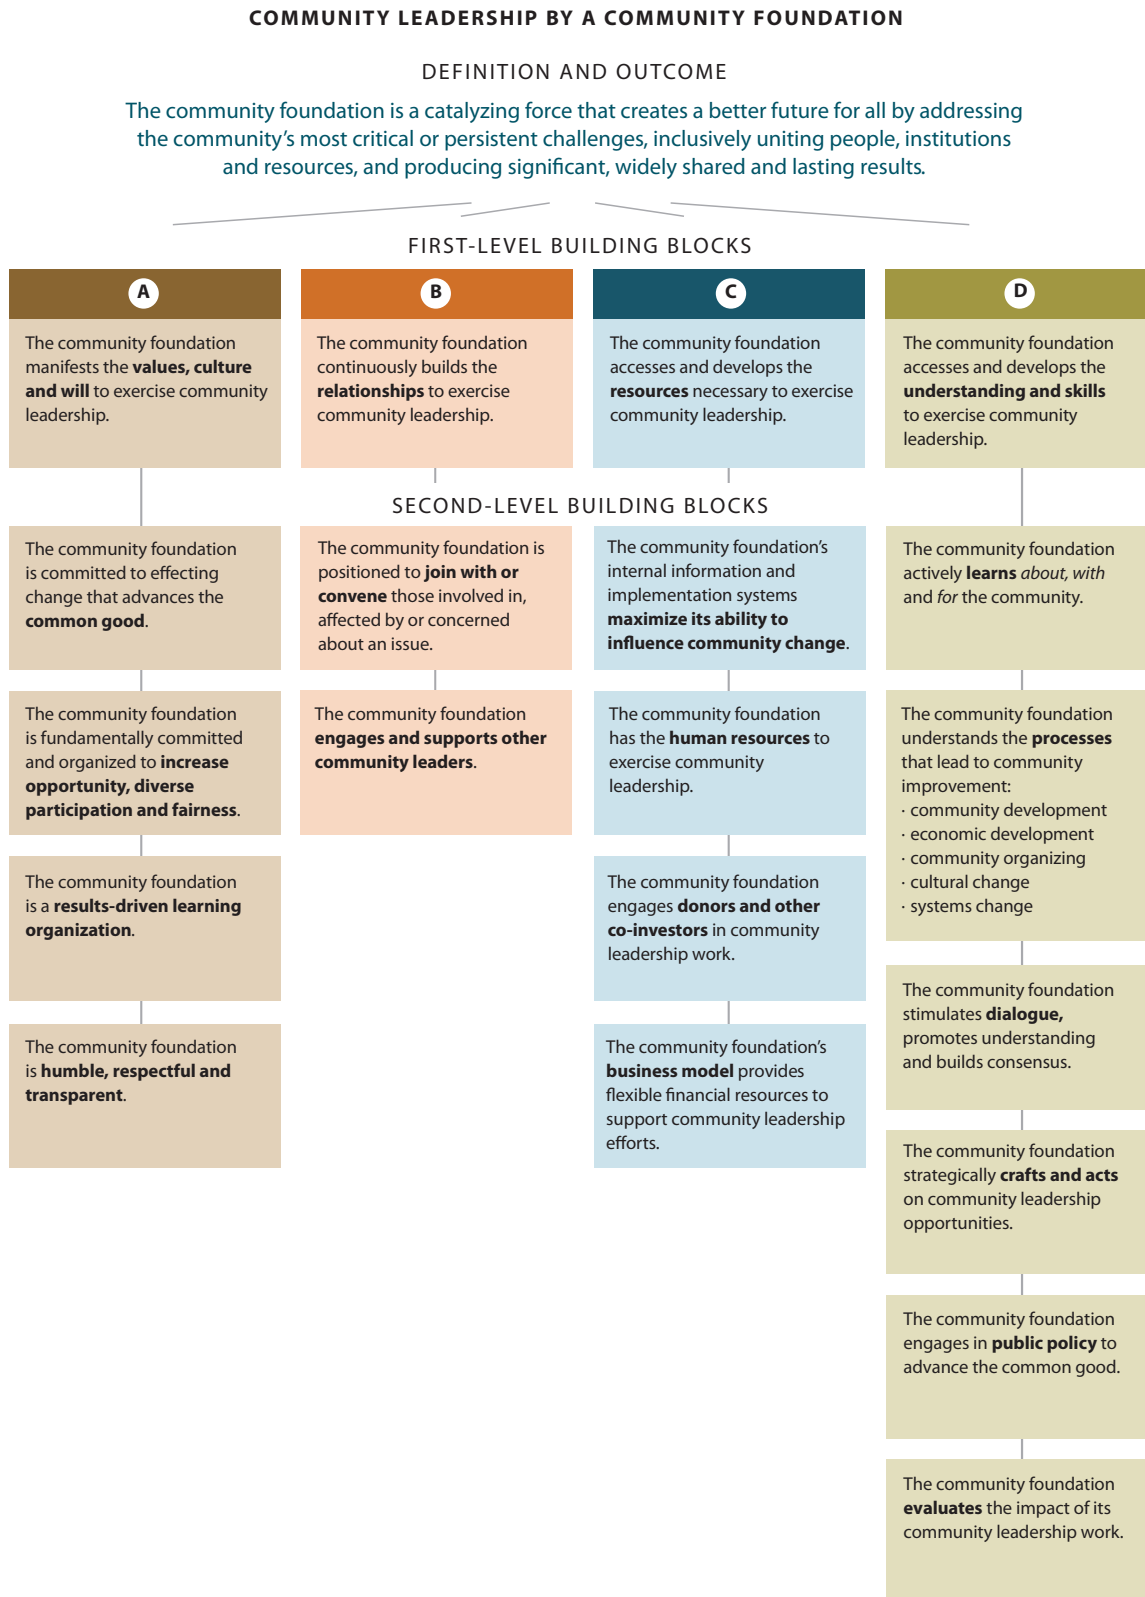

This acknowledges how the community foundation goes about its business: in the open and ensuring broad participation. It also recognizes that the community foundation is well-suited to assemble and leverage resources.

and producing significant, widely shared and lasting results

This acknowledges that the community foundation looks beyond quick fixes and innovative pilot projects, and that it has the staying power to reach long-term results.

Framework at a glance

The framework can be used to bring clarity to the definition and practice of community leadership by individual community foundations.

Considering building blocks

BUILDING BLOCK A

The community foundation manifests the values, culture and will to exercise community leadership.

Second-level building blocks

1. The community foundation is committed to effecting change that advances the common good.

2. The community foundation is fundamentally committed and organized to increase opportunity, diverse participation and fairness.

3. The community foundation is a results-driven learning organization.

4. The community foundation is humble, respectful and transparent.

Third-level building blocks

- 1a. The community foundation's mission includes community betterment.
- 1b. The community foundation consistently acts on clearly articulated values that undergird community betterment.
- 1c. The board, staff and volunteers are passionately committed to creating a better future for all.
- 1d. The community foundation subordinates the self-interest of its board, staff, volunteers and donors to the common good.

- 2a. The community foundation examines and articulates its values of increasing opportunity, diverse participation and fairness.
- 2b. The community foundation understands that diversity and inclusion enhance credibility and improve effectiveness.
- 2c. The community foundation's internal policies and practices reflect and support diversity and inclusion.
- 2d. The community foundation uses inclusion and equity values in choosing its community leadership issues and actions.
- 2e. The community foundation recognizes and addresses class and other power imbalances in its work with diverse constituencies.
- 2f. The community foundation advocates for and commits resources to inclusion and equity in all of its work.
- 2g. The community foundation respects and accounts for the differences, needs, resources and interests of specific constituencies.

- 3a. The community foundation focuses its community leadership efforts on issues with significant or long-term impact on the community.
- 3b. The community foundation determines the nature and duration of its community leadership engagement in terms of the outcomes it seeks.
- 3c. The community foundation examines itself and makes internal changes to increase its impact and effectiveness.
- 3d. The community foundation learns from and adapts its actions based on routine examination of successes and failures.

- 4a. The community foundation is prompt, courteous and caring in all of its interactions with the community.
- 4b. The community foundation is respectful when it disagrees with others.
- 4c. The community foundation shares or declines to take credit when necessary to advance community leadership goals.
- 4d. The community foundation accepts criticism and admits mistakes.

Considering building blocks

BUILDING BLOCK B

The community foundation continuously builds the relationships to exercise community leadership.

Second-level building blocks

1. The community foundation is positioned to join with or convene those involved in, affected by or concerned about an issue. ▶

2. The community foundation engages and supports other community leaders. ▶

Third-level building blocks

- 1a. Relationship building and outreach are core expectations for community foundation staff, board and volunteers.
- 1b. The community foundation nurtures relationships and fosters trust throughout the community.
- 1c. The community foundation has access to a diverse group of leaders through its board, staff, donors, volunteers, grantees, and partners.
- 1d. The community foundation is actively and directly involved in those neighborhoods and places where it is doing community leadership work.
- 1e. The community foundation engages the vulnerable and voiceless in community problem-solving.
- 1f. The community foundation builds relationships with those outside the community whose connections, resources, interests and abilities may support community leadership work.

- 2a. The community foundation follows or joins efforts initiated and led by others.
- 2b. The community foundation works to build the capacity of leaders throughout the community.
- 2c. The community foundation engages and supports new leaders, especially from groups underrepresented in the community's leadership structure, to succeed and gain influence.
- 2d. The community foundation believes that groups within the community should choose their own leaders.

Considering building blocks

BUILDING BLOCK C

The community foundation accesses and develops the resources necessary to exercise community leadership.

Second-level building blocks

1. The community foundation's internal information and implementation systems maximizes its ability to influence community change.

2. The community foundation has the human resources to exercise community leadership.

Third-level building blocks

- 1a. The community foundation integrates its community leadership efforts across all functional areas.
 - 1b. The community foundation has a consultative process in place to identify emerging, critical or persistent community issues.
 - 1c. The community foundation has a system to match donor interests with community leadership needs and issues.
 - 1d. The community foundation aligns its grantmaking systems and operational processes to support community leadership.
 - 1e. The community foundation is user-friendly in all of its processes.
 - 1f. The community foundation's information systems are transparent and accessible.
-
- 2a. The board, staff, volunteers, donors, grantees and vendors are broadly reflective of the community and its shifting demographics.
 - 2b. The board uses community leadership as a primary criterion in selecting and evaluating the CEO.
 - 2c. The board and staff are entrepreneurial, take risks and learn from their mistakes.
 - 2d. The board and staff take new or courageous stands, when necessary, to move an issue forward.
 - 2e. The board reflects the diverse points of view and levels of influence necessary to effect change.
 - 2f. The community foundation provides ongoing professional development for board, staff and volunteers around community leadership.
 - 2g. The board, staff and volunteers are able to relate to the cultures that make up their community.

Considering building blocks

BUILDING BLOCK C (CONTINUED)

The community foundation accesses and develops the resources necessary to exercise community leadership.

Second-level building blocks

3. The community foundation engages donors and other co-investors in community leadership work.

4. The community foundation's business model provides flexible financial resources to support community leadership efforts.

Third-level building blocks

- 3a. The community foundation systematically helps current and prospective donors deepen their understanding of community issues.
 - 3b. The community foundation connects donors and potential co-investors to opportunities to increase the impact of their investments.
 - 3c. The community foundation's donors use their influence and connections to advance community leadership efforts.
 - 3d. The community foundation provides feedback to donors and other co-investors about the impact of their support.
 - 3e. The community foundation encourages donors to structure gifts in ways that can flexibly address changing community needs over time.
 - 3f. The community foundation provides donors with philanthropic options outside the community foundation when donor interests are incompatible with its values.
-
- 4a. Operations are efficient, freeing resources for community leadership.
 - 4b. The community foundation has income-generating, budgeting and leveraging strategies to support community leadership, such as:
 - fees from donor funds
 - earned income
 - unrestricted endowment income
 - public sector funds
 - corporate and foundation grants
 - annual campaigns and special events.
 - 4c. The community foundation knows the cost of each service it provides relative to the revenue it generates, and aligns subsidies as needed to serve community leadership efforts.
 - 4d. The community foundation knows how to use community and portfolio investments outside of grantmaking to support community leadership efforts.

Considering building blocks

BUILDING BLOCK D

The community foundation accesses and develops the understanding and skills to exercise community leadership.

Second-level building blocks

1. The community foundation actively learns about, with and for the community. ▶

2. The community foundation understands the processes that lead to community improvement:

- community development
- economic development
- community organizing
- cultural change
- systems change

3. The community foundation stimulates dialogue, promotes understanding and builds consensus. ▶

Third-level building blocks

- 1a. The community foundation has current and historical knowledge of the institutions, leadership, economy, demographics, natural and built environment, and culture of its area.
- 1b. The community foundation reaches out to people in the community to understand their perspectives, gain their knowledge and engage them in identifying solutions.
- 1c. The community foundation finds or generates objective information it needs but may not have.
- 1d. The community foundation looks beyond current strategies for solutions.

- 3a. The community foundation has the skills and ability to use convening to produce results.
- 3b. The community foundation has the skills, strategies and capacity to effectively tell community leadership stories.
- 3c. The community foundation tailors its communications to diverse audiences.
- 3d. The community foundation uses non-traditional communication outlets and new media to ensure community-wide reach.
- 3e. The community foundation frames issues in ways that resonate with those who can make change happen.
- 3f. The community foundation stays current with communication technology.
- 3g. The community foundation is a trusted source and provider of information about the community.

Considering building blocks

BUILDING BLOCK D (CONTINUED)

The community foundation accesses and develops the understanding and skills to exercise community leadership.

Second-level building blocks

4. The community foundation strategically crafts and acts on community leadership opportunities.

5. The community foundation engages in public policy to advance the common good.

6. The community foundation evaluates the impact of its community leadership work.

Third-level building blocks

- 4a. The community foundation understands the multiple roles and range of tools it can use to leverage change.
 - 4b. The community foundation identifies the ways it is willing and able to add value to a community leadership issue.
 - 4c. The community foundation knows when to work behind the scenes, when to take a stand, when to partner, and when to build the capacity of others to effect change.
 - 4d. The community foundation nimbly anticipates and responds to emerging opportunities and challenges.
 - 4e. The community foundation sustains its efforts to achieve its outcomes.
-
- 5a. The community foundation understands the public policy process and resource streams.
 - 5b. The community foundation cultivates relationships in all three branches of government and at the federal, state and local levels.
 - 5c. The community foundation knows when and how to effectively participate in the policy process.
 - 5d. The community foundation knows and takes advantage of the range of advocacy options the law allows to 501(c)(3) organizations.
-
- 6a. The community foundation has a long-range vision, plan and outcome-oriented goals for its community leadership work.
 - 6b. The community foundation gathers data, information and community feedback to measure, inform and adjust its community leadership work.

COUNCIL on FOUNDATIONS

Community Foundations Leadership Team

2121 Crystal Drive, Suite 700, Arlington, VA 22202

2008 Framework for Community Leadership by Community Foundations

community@cof.org 703.879.0600

© Council on Foundations 2008. These materials were prepared by CFLeads and Aspen Institute Community Strategies Group for the Council on Foundations. Readers are encouraged to copy, share and otherwise use these materials as long as the purpose is charitable and attribution is made to CFLeads, Aspen Institute Community Strategies Group, and the Council on Foundations.